We, the undersigned, wish to express our sincere thanks to friends and neighbors, also to the Pythian Sisterhood and the Asherton Society for flowers, and especially to Mrs. L. A. Miller and Mrs. J. H. Miller for their kindness and assistance during our late bereavement. Signed,

NORWAY AND VICINITY
Mrs. Sylvia Howard.
Sylvia Jane Howard died at her home here, Friday night, July 18, at 9.35. She was born in Minot, June 26, 1846, her father being Benjamin Collins, one of the first police officers of Lewiston. She married a man by the name of Howard.
One child died in infancy, the other, Ben Howard, who ran an upholstering business here for many years, and Allie, wife of David B. Morse, the steam laundry man.

The funeral was at the house, services conducted by Rev. B. S. Rideout. Monday afternoon at 1 o'clock. The body was taken to Mechanic Falls that afternoon for burial.

Besides the children above mentioned, a sister, Mrs. O. H. Guphill of White Oak Spring, and Mrs. Lillian King of Piscataway are left. These are all the near relatives.

J. S. Herriek is at work, this week, haying on the town farm.

Wallace D. Cole and family are moving back from Westbrook.

Richard Sadler of Island Pond is visiting his cousin, Francis Sweet.

Three persons were baptized at the Episcopal church, Sunday morning.

Regular monthly social of the Epworth League at G. A. R. hall, Thursday, July 24th.

C. A. Richardson of Auburn spent Sunday with his parents at Norway Center.

Florence Warren of Rumford Falls is making a visit of some length at James Sheed's.

C. L. Paragard and wife are visiting their son, H. C. Paragard, at Freeport, this week.

Ava and Bessie Haggart are on a visit to their uncle, P. N. Haskell at East Waterford.

The latest word from Mary Jones is that she is improving, which will be welcome news to her friends.

Clara Connor and Isaac P. Cobb attended the Epworth League Convention, Lewiston district, at Bath, last week.

The Oxford Blacksmiths' Association met at Buckfield, Saturday evening.
There were twenty-five present, and a social time was enjoyed. The association numbers forty members.

Rev. and Mrs. E. F. Fickett returned Friday from Boothbay Harbor after a delightful sojourn there.

They visited the Five Islands and Bath and attended the Epworth League Convention in the latter city, July 16th and 17th.

L. M. Lovejoy and wife are visiting at C. A. Frost's, this week. Mr. Lovejoy was born and brought up near this town and went to Portland at the age of twenty-one. He has been engaged in the carpentry business for over forty years and has now retired.

Blanche Groves came home from Bellows Falls, Vt., where she is employed as a milliner, and for a short time is at work for the American Dry Goods Syndicate at the Andrews store, South Paris. She will return to Bellows Falls on the opening of the millinery season.

Wesley C. Pierce, who left us some 15 years ago to seek his fortune in the West, is visiting friends in this vicinity. It has been a dozen years or more since he was last here. He makes his headquarters at Los Gatos, Cal., though he is there but little, especially so for the last four years. He has traveled in all the states and territories of the Union and has been in British Columbia and territories to Alaska since he was last here.
He enjoys it and makes a good living, and more. For the past three years he has been with W. J. Cranford of the Cranford tire-tightener fame, whose invention is a good thing and a quick seller.

Mr. C. B. Cummings and Fannie, Mrs.
George I. Cummings and Mrs. Edwin Cummings visited Bemis last Saturday.
They were accompanied by George I.
Cummings of the firm of C. B. Cummings & Sons. Their new boarding house at their mill at Bemis is completed and they made their first shipment of dovels, last Saturday. George Cummings put the first bundle into the car.
The party were taken on an excursion about the lake and they visited Cupu-se stream where many trout are being taken. Mrs. C. B. Cummings and Fannie and Mrs. Edwin Cummings remain there, this week. George I. Cummings and wife returned, the first of the week.

NUMBER 30.

JULY 25, 1902, NORWAY AND SOUTH PARIS, MAINE.

VOLUME XXXIII.

Mr. Jones Will Leave Us.

William J. Jones, superintendent of the Oxford Light Co. and the N. & P.
Street Railway, has resigned to take effect Oct. 1st and will go to Berlin N. H., after having been connected with electrical matters in town for about eight years.

Mr. Jones entered the electrical business in Dover, N. H., as inside wireman, and in 1887 went to Somersworth, N. H., as superintendent of the division of the Consolidated Electric Light Co., which was established in that city then. Two years later he entered the employ of the Union Street Railroad, seven miles in length, which was installed then through Dover and Somersworth, and was conductor, motorman and assistant superintendent.

In 1891 he left the employ of this company and soon went to the city of Ottumwa, Iowa, where he was superintendent and electrician on the lighting and railway plant of the Ottumwa Electric and Steam Company. After about two years, not liking the place, he came back east to Dover, N. H.

In October, 1894, he came to Norway to have charge of the Oxford Light Company's plant and took charge of the street railway also when F. B. Lee resigned about three years ago. Since he has been here the business of the light company has increased four fold, the plant has practically been rebuilt and has been kept up to high efficiency, so that to-day it is one of the best plants of its size in this section.

Mr. Jones goes from here to become manager of the Berlin Street Railroad, now being installed between Berlin and Gorham, N. H. Cars are expected to begin running this week and will be going through to Gorham in about a month.
He will be up there more or less from now out and goes for good Oct. 1st.

People are very sorry to lose Mr.
Jones from our community for they all like him, both the public, the employees of the electric company and railway, and the owners and officials. He has been prominent in secret society matters, in social life, and has been connected with whatever was calculated to advance the interests of the town.

Of course there is but one reason assigned anywhere or by any one for his leaving us, and that is the one he himself gives, namely, that it is a considerable advancement for him and is for his interest to go, notwithstanding his regrets at leaving many friends he has made here. The best wishes of Norway people are with him.

The man to succeed Mr. Jones in the superintendency of the light company and street railway has not been appointed but probably will be soon.

Peck's Bad Boy.
There are plays that one sees and enjoys very often and always promises himself to see just once more. "Peck's Bad Boy" is in that category and will occupy the stage at the Opera House, July 29. Age seems to have no effect on that most mischievous of youngsters, who yearly learns new pranks, finds new tricks to play on the German Grocery-man, original methods of bothering his Pa, makes life a tiresome thing to the Policeman, and when it comes to making love, well, he's just too lovely, so his best girl thinks.

Manager T. J. French possesses a knack of getting the right players for the right parts. It needs but mention that the company will appear and they will be greeted with full houses everywhere.

Manager Hathaway has secured the company for a date at the Opera House, July 29.

On Vacation Bent.
L. I. Gilbert, with his niece, Mrs.
Meda Kilbreth, and his housekeeper, Sue Barker, started the first of the week for a fortnight's cottage life at Ponce's Landing, Long Island.

Mr. Gilbert says they are going to have a great and glorious time. There are lots of pleasures to be had on any of the Cascos Bay Islands, and we are certain that this party will have fully their share.

Fishing and boating will occupy their time to a considerable degree, and on the pleasant days that ought to come soon the sun bath upon the sand and the sea bath in the water will be used for all it is worth. The master of the party plans to entertain people from Norway, Turner and other places, and says that he won't feel bad to have visitors every day.

We have been unable to learn if any of the party plan to record the events and appearances upon camera plates. We should like to see the result if they do.

Mrs. Elizabeth S. Eaton of Auburn is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Sargent at Grand View Cottage, Lake Pennesseswassee.

Jesse Brown has sold his camp and Porter Seavey the land on which it is located to James C. True. The camp is near Rufus K. Morrill's.

At the Democratic caucus, Saturday afternoon, Frank P. Towne was nominated for the legislature for the Norway, Hobron, Oxford district.

Frank R. Taylor goes to his camp by Lake Pennesseswassee, this week, where with one man servant he will keep "bachelor's hall" and have guests about to his liking for the rest of the summer.

Carolina De Fabricis of Boston is visiting at E. P. Stone's. She is a singer of much merit, and her friends here hope to have the pleasure of hearing her voice at least once, this season.

E. W. Dyer got a shock of some six hundred volts while working at Yarmouth on the 15th. Mr. Dyer fell from mouth on the 15th. Mr. Dyer fell from the pole some 25 feet and lit on a barbed wire fence. He was unconscious for a little while but after a week's lay off he returned to work. His neck, hands and arms were badly burnt.

The engagement is announced of Virginia Eleanor Sargent to Hal Roscoe Eaton of Auburn. Miss Sargent is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Sargent, a gifted musician and highly esteemed for her many pupils and friends. Mr.
Eaton was formerly a teacher in the Edward Little High School, Auburn, is now principal of Paris High School.

Norway Municipal Court.
Charles Paine was up before the court, July 18, for assault upon Robert Wheeler. A small fine and costs was imposed. Paid.

Thomas J. Whitman.

Thomas J. Whitman died from the effects of a paralytic shock, Tuesday, July 22, aged 62 years, at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Alden E. Day, at Curtis Hill, South Woodstock. He was taken sick some time Saturday night and died at 6.30 Tuesday morning.

He has lived in Boston many years, but in the spring of 1899 came here and settled, buying the Brooks place in the vicinity of Curtis Hill, and soon after the road from Norway to that village and the Allen hill road.

He leaves a wife, Mrs. Emily A. Whitman, two sons, Charles A., who resides on the Brooks place above mentioned, and Oscar F., who lives in Boston, also three daughters, Mrs. Fannie Crockett of Norway, Mrs. Cora M. Greenleaf of Norway and Mrs. Edith E. Day of South Woodstock.

The funeral services were held, Thursday afternoon, at one o'clock, at South Woodstock.

A Norway Boy Honored.
Charles G. Blake, son of Jonathan Blake and brother of Mrs. W. W. Whitman, who has been connected with the Blackwater Lumber Co. at Davis, W. Va., and has had a great deal to do with the management of the company, has gone from Davis to their Philadelphia office.
On Friday, July 19, before he left for Philadelphia, just as he was closing up business for the day, the employees met him in a body and their spokesman presented him with a beautiful gold-headed cane, carved and suitably inscribed.

Davis people were not through with him then, for on his arrival at the hotel where he had long resided an informal banquet was ready, at which business associates and political friends were present and spoke feelingly of their appreciation of Mr. Blake and their regrets at his loss. To these words Mr.
Blake responded fittingly as the occasion demanded.

The next morning he went to Philadelphia, his new residence, whither Mrs.
Blake had gone some days before.

Good Work Recognized by the President.
Wm. N. Jenkins, formerly of this town and now motorman on the Boston Elevated Railway, received a very complimentary notice in General Order No.
331 issued by Wm. A. Bancroft, president of the company, July 17th.

It says: "Let a General Order be issued especially commending motorman Wm. N. Jenkins, No. 5167, who at 9.10
a. m. to-day on Massachusetts avenue near Inman street, Cambridge, by observing the order relating to shutting off the power and putting on the brake, was able to avoid what might have been a serious damage from a runaway team."

The painstaking observance of the rule of the company and the skillful conduct of motorman Wm. N. Jenkins, of this town, the undersigned (Wm. Bancroft) was an eye witness, is a conspicuous illustration of good railroading and instances the importance of the rule of shutting off the power and putting on the brake when approaching a cross-street. This practice should be emulated by all other motormen.

Mrs. A. Edwards has returned from Auburn.

Mrs. Angela Dean is sick at her home in Yarmouth.

The ell of Geo. A. Cole's house is being resubling.

Charles Hassan and wife have moved to South Paris.

Robert Wheeler has moved into the rent over C. W. Palmer's.

H. F. Andrews and family have returned from Old Orchard.

Vaughan Rand of North Weymouth, Mass., is visiting Mrs. H. J. Bangs this week.

"Keep off the Grass," is said plainer than by word of sign by the most boast and chain fence about Dr. H. I. Bar-lett's front lawn. The situation made unconscious as well as deliberate trespass very easy.

S. C. Foster has purchased of F. W.
Morgan the right to sell the New Hampshire Savings Bank's bonds, which he intends to sell in the towns of Oxford, Cumberland counties. E. E. Williams is to be traveling salesman. The sadiron is a good thing and a ready seller.

D. H. McWain and wife of Newton, Mass., were at the Elm House, last week and a part of this. Mr. McWain resided in Norway for four years, leaving here in 1895. He has been back but few times and finds the place much changed.
People have gone away, new ones have come in and it seems to him something like a new town. They went to his native town of Waterbury, Conn. here and will visit relatives there for a time.

E. F. Smith went to Richmond, Saturday, on account of the death of Mrs.
Smith's mother, Mrs. Elvira Alexander, which occurred Friday afternoon, July 15th, after a long sickness. Mrs. Smith has been there about two months. Besides her husband, Capt. Abner D.
Alexander, she leaves two sons and three daughters, Joseph E., chief clerk of the secretary of State at Augusta, Louis A., who resides in Rhode Island, Mrs. J. M.
Odienne and Mrs. W. A. Bibber of Richmond, and Mrs. E. F. Smith of Norway.

Henrietta C. Barton.

Henrietta C. Barton died at her summer home in Essex, Vt., Friday, July 18.
She was a daughter of Asa Barton, bookkeeper of the Oxford County Bookstore, and for a time editor and proprietor of the Oxford Observer.

She was born in Norway, Apr. 17, 1832, and was educated in the Norway schools.
Quite early in life she went to Cambridge, Mass., where she has resided since and has had for some years a summer home in Vermont at the foot of Death was sudden caused by heart failure. Funeral services were at Essex, and the body brought to Norway, being laid to rest at Rustfield cemetery in three days from her death.

Some Very Good Acting.
The Hadfield Stock Company was at the Opera House, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings of this week, with a Wednesday matinee. The company consisted of some fifteen actors in addition to the three little people, Mrs. Gen.
Tom Thumb, Count and Baron Magri.
The company has some strong actors and the cast as made up and presented at the performances did not have a stick or a misfit.

Monday night, there was a rather small attendance. The play, "A Western Romance," was full of strong situations and was much appreciated.

Tuesday night, the galleries were well filled, the floor seats were not so well taken. A stirring railroad drama, "The Lightning Express," was well received.

Wednesday's matinee called out the children in large numbers. About three hundred are thought to have been there, and they were delighted with the Count, Baron and Mrs. Tom Thumb.

"Falsely Accused," a powerful drama, drew a crowded house, Wednesday evening. Its presentation was up to the present and the other plays and was heartily received.

Bertha Holmes of Auburn is visiting Alice Smith.

Mrs. M. L. Kimball is visiting relatives in Lewiston.

Lee Smith and family have been taking a vacation in Newry.

W. H. Babb has been visited for a few days by his mother from Auburn.

H. D. Smith and family are at Leavitt's cottage by the lake, this week.

Helen S. Swan of Everett, Mass., is visiting her mother, Mrs. Rowena Swan.

Hazel and Winnie Bennett have gone to Falmouth, Maine, to visit a few days.

Harry Woodworth is to have charge of the new engine at the Paris Manufacturing Co.

Mrs. A. K. Allen and her friend Miss Doolittle of Foxboro, Mass., are visiting Mrs. Allen's sister, Mrs. S. D. Andrews,
this week.

A tattooed man exhibited one night recently on Beal street. It is said he belonged to a circus that is promised to come here sometime this season.

At the Episcopal church, Sunday, two services were held, one in the forenoon at 11 and one in the afternoon at four. Mr. Bailey of Manchester, N. H., is to conduct it.

Dr. F. N. Barker's family has returned from the farm being at home for the present. We correct a misstatement made last week. The doctor has not stayed over night at the farm, or otherwise than at home, and does not intend to.

A town ward has been petitioned for, running from the Norway Lake road past A. F. Canwell's house, thence at right angles past his land and nearly parallel to Water street to the house of Peter Haskell. A hearing has been appointed at Canwell's house, Saturday, Aug. 2, at 2 o'clock.

A busy job is being done at the electric light station, rebuilding to a large extent the piers under the big iron flume.
Only a portion can be torn away and then replaced at a time lest the whole work should come down. It is to be good hands however and the danger of accident is not very great.

Mrs. John A. Woodman gave a party, last week Wednesday afternoon and evening, at their pleasant log cabin by Lake Pennesseswassee. There were seventeen gentlemen and ladies in the company. The steamer was chartered for this special trip. Fishing, card playing and various other amusements made the time pass all too quickly.

Support was secured and was one of the most pleasing features, for a day at the lake makes everyone hungry. Mrs.
Woodman is a delightful hostess and has made entertaining for years a business and an art. Socially the party was a brilliant success.

The new enclosed electric arc lamps are giving satisfaction where introduced.
Several have replaced the old arcs on the commercial circuit. There is no doubt that the new lamps are not in those of the old lamp. Another noticeable lack is the spitting and sizzling of the old ones, which were excellent in their day, but like all things of the kind are now gone by. The new light does not collect insects, and is suitable to work by. The agreement for the new lights has been made. There are to be 12 arc lights located upon Main street and in a few other places where lots of light is needed, and 75 incandescent lights in intervals. The exact locations have not been decided upon for all of them, but the streets will be more evenly lighted, especially those having abundant of trees.

Pease's Cottage was ablaze with light illumination of colored lights and fireworks, Tuesday evening. The event was in celebration of the birthdays of Mrs. Daniel Baker and her daughter, Mrs. Mary Baker Witt, which by a happy coincidence occurred on the same day of the month. A few friends and relatives came from the neighboring cottages some to wish the ladies joy and pleasure and many happy returns of the day. After the last pinwheel had spun its erratic spins, and the last flowerpot had exploded and the last skyrocket had been sent heavenward, the party went inside and enjoyed a refreshing half hour at the dining table with the jolly captain as chief converser, the watermelon. After a few games of ping pong and a little social talk the departing guests were lighted through the edge of outer darkness by the captain with his patent reversible safety lantern.

Racing and Base Ball.

A race meet will be held on the Fair Grounds Tuesday and Wednesday, Aug.
12 and 13. The classes are to be the burg for on that date will occur centenennial exercises of the days when Daniel

Webster used to teach at Fryeburg Academy. Extensive preparations are being made for the event which will be notable in the history of this famous old town.

Senator Frye will be the principal orator, while Congressman Littlefield will also speak. An invitation will be sent to Senator Hoar who has probably made a closer study of the life and public services of America's famous orator than any one.

The exercises will probably be held in the forenoon when Senator Frye, Congressman Littlefield and the other nota-

RUMFORD FALLS.

Bold, Bad Burglars.

Wednesday night, July 16, the clothing store of C. H. McKenzie Co. was entered by removing a panel in the back door and pushing back the spring lock.

The cash drawer was rifled but nothing else removed, loss $3.75.

At Morris Marx's clothing store, a pane was broken in a back window and entrance effected. Both money drawers were cleared out, loss $9.40.

Monday night, July 7, Harry Marx's jewelry store was entered and three watches worth $25 each, $12 in cash and a coat were taken. The burglary was kept quiet in order that the officers might catch the offenders.

The police have what they consider good clues and some one will soon be arrested.

Home Building.

G. A. Peabody is building a new residence on Maine avenue. Loring Roberts is building a cottage in Virginia.

be ready in about two weeks. Mrs.

Eva S. Whitman's house on Knox street is being plastered. Ralph Parlin's new house on Washington street will soon be ready for occupancy.

Something of a Fire.

A fire broke out in McMenamin block, Thursday morning about four o'clock. Alarm from box 26 was promptly given. The fire looked bad when the hose teams got there but it was soon under control and was all out at 5.30.

Aug. LaChapelle's restaurant was a total loss. Insured for $550. The Rum-ford Falls Dye House movable property was saved.

Special Town Meeting.

will assist the pastor and Prof. C. R.

Parker of Maine, Ind., will have charge of the music.

Found in a Copper Box.

It is interesting to note at this time when the Massachusetts Charitable Mechanics Association is preparing to have a genuine Mechanics Fair, some of the souvenirs that recall the earlier days of this Association that have just come to light.

On September 30, 1857, a copper box was placed in the corner stone of the old building of the Association, corner of Chauncy and Bedford Streets, Boston.

Some four years ago the box was removed from the corner-stone and taken to the office of the Association in Mechanics Building. On the afternoon of July 9th the box was opened in the office of the Association at a meeting of the regular board of government.

It is a medium-sized box and shows in its outside appearance little evidence that it had lain more than 40 years in the corner-stone. Many interesting relics were found therein, among which was a silver plate, 5x3 inches, upon which were engraved the names of the officers of the Association and others.

Besides this, there was considerable printed matter; copies of gold, silver and bronze medals; sundry coins, reports and other printed data. Among the coins might be mentioned a gold-plated medal, being formerly an award to Palmer & Hall for Telegraphic Apparatus Exhibit of 1856; an 1856 copper cent; an 1857 cent with a flying bird on one side which is quite a rarity; an 1857 five-cent silver piece; a twenty-five-cent silver piece of the same date; a dime and a half dime; a three-cent piece with a six-pointed star on one side. Besides the above was a book entitled "Franklin Statue Memorial," which was prepared and printed by authority of the City Council of Boston in 1857, and other printed matter.

These relics are of the greatest interest to seekers of the antique. One can hardly help wondering what the feelings of those living at that time would be were they able to revisit this world, and dropping in at the Fair, note the marvelous improvements and discoveries that will be exhibited there this Fall, and compare them with what 40 years ago this same Association, for the instruction and enlightenment of the public, offered way back in 1857.

What kind of bird is that stealing my peas? Robins steal strawberries in rows or hills. No trouble where they are allowed to run together. I have corn all tassel out but it has forgotten to silk. A bush of sweet corn on four acres. John Y. Thurlow planted four acres and later sowed Hungarian. So it goes.

Saturday evening, July 19, the Grange convened at Nezineot Hall, Old Fellows at the same time in their rooms in upper story. A few roads away in Claunder's blacksmith shop the Blacksmiths' Union, long formed, held a meeting, while a few steps away at the Baptist church a musical rehearsal was going on, making preparations for a baptism which followed on Sunday evening, all these things conspiring to give the street a congested appearance.

BOLSTER'S MILLS.

Charles E. Stuart.

The death of Charles E. Stuart recently occurred, and I cannot let one who officiated for so many years in the last sad rites of our departed friends pass by unnoticed. One who never raised the call for aid, who never said they may, let the summons come when it would, who was always ready to go for friend and foe alike, without money and without price. One whose words of cheer brought comfort to many a saddened heart, and the help he gave in time of trouble will be remembered till this generation shall have passed away.

For a year or more his health had been failing, but his friends hoped when the spring days came he would improve. Although two years past the threescore and ten he seemed like a much younger man and kept in touch with all the interests of the young people near, and to say that the children loved him is enough.

For many years he drove through the country with the old-time "peddle-cart," then some dozen years or more ago he opened a store and dispensed "Yankee notions" to the public. Later he added groceries, but still did not give up the cart, but drove out a number of days each week. The last time your correspondent saw him out was last fall, when I noticed quite his feebleness and failing health. Upon inquiry as to how he was he said, "I don't know but I shall have to admit I'm getting old, but I'm going to wiggle just as long as I can."

Like Abraham Lincoln his fund of anecdotes, his ready jokes and instant repartee will long be remembered.

Double Drowning Accident.

A double tragedy occurred at South Bridgton, Sunday evening, July 13th, whereby Washington Richardson of Bridgton and Philip, the 15 year old son of Mr. R. Berry of South Bridgton, lost their lives.

Richardson and Berry were bathing in Adams pond, South Bridgton, Richardson being an expert swimmer. He was evidently teaching the Berry boy how to swim, when the lad got beyond his depth. Richardson at once went to the rescue of his companion, who seized him in such a way that he was unable to use his limbs and was drawn under with the struggling youth, who was in such a state of excitement that he had no control over his reasoning powers.

This took place in water which was only about eight feet deep and within plain view of Berry's distracted father, who not being a swimmer himself was unable to be of any assistance.

Mr. Richardson was about 55 years of age and was a Grand Army man. His body when recovered did not show signs of death by drowning. He was subject to heart disease and it is probable that the shock caused by water strangulation. The bodies were recovered in about two hours and Monday afternoon they were consigned to their last resting place.—[Bridgton News.]

EAST STONEHAM.

Charles Whitney.

The remains of Charles Whitney, who died at Harrison, were brought to this town and interred in the family lot. Funeral services were held at the residence of Mr. Allen, Mrs. Whitney's father, on Friday afternoon. Deceased had been in poor health for the past three or four years and especially so the past few months.

Percy Nevins and family are visiting relatives in town.

Blueberries will be almost a failure, it is said, in this locality.

Last Monday was the hottest day we have had here this summer.

Iva Butters returned to Millinocket after a two weeks' visit home, accompanied by a friend.

Every one remarks, "What a peculiar season we are having," such cold nights and so much cloudy weather.

Mrs. Charles Bartlett has a house full of boarders. Georgia Putnam and Flora Stearns are assisting Mrs. Bartlett.

I hear that Jonathan B. McAllister has had a pension granted him of $9.00 per month. He enlisted in the war with Spain.

Ass Keniston recently lost a nice lamb, supposed to have been killed by a bear or by dogs. It was found dead in the pasture.

It has been very poor hay weather most of the time the past week, still some of the farmers have been getting some of their crops in.

Minnie Littlefield has gone on a visit to her aunt, Mrs. Manley, in Auburn. Mrs. Emma Brown is keeping house for Miss L. while she is absent.

Saturday evening, the 12th, Hiawatha Lodge, K. of P., entertained brothers of the order from Bridgton and other towns. Refreshments were served. About 75 were in attendance.

Charles McKen's family, who lost their house by fire on July 4th, are living in a small building which had been intended for a different purpose. By putting on a small addition they can find shelter until such time as will be required to rebuild, or make some provision for cold weather.

Some of the people in this village had quite a scare, last Monday evening. There was a brush fire and it looked as if Mr. Butters' buildings were on fire. The church bells were rung and several ran to the rescue, and did not find out what was burning until nearly there, when they found it was a pile of brush and rubbish which had been set on fire.

Pine Tree Ballads.

Pine Tree Ballads, by Holman F. Day, is a book the successor to the popular "Up-in-Maine." The size is 7½x4½, 256 pages, bound in dark green with gilt lettering, and cover plate of a pine tree. "These are plain talks of picturesque character—phrases in Maine Yankee dialect from the Allegheny to the ocean." The departments are Out-Home Folks, Songs of the Sea and Shore, Ballads of Drive and Camp, Just Human Nature, Next to the Heart, Our Good Predecessors, and Ballads of Capers and Action. Many of these poems have been published in the Youth's Companion, Saturday Evening Post, Ainslee's and Everybody's. There are excellent illustrations that illustrate, including portraits of Solon Chase, the late Ezra Stephens, Barney McDonald and others, with scenes of Maine home life will appeal to the reader at his very heart. What David Harum, Eben Holden and 'Dri and I are to American fiction, Holman Day's poems, to poetry, and have struck the same popular vein. It is because they are so real, and so true, that such a book as one now reviewed will bring laughter, smiles or tears, and lighten the heart as we read.

NORTH BRIDGTON.

The pupils of the Harrison primary school who are on the first roll of honor, i. e., who were not absent one-half day or tardy, are: Hazel Briggs, George Davis, Arthur Smith, Merle Whitney, Gertrude Seavey, Chester Gilman. The second honor belongs to Johnny Cheney, who was not absent one-half day for the term. The third roll of honor, those who were not tardy for the term, has the following names: Florence Bennett, Hobart Dennison, Alice Freeman, Carl Martin, Dean Martin, Wilma Southworth, Marion Stuart, Florence Walton, Herbert Whitney, Thuan Whitney, Ethel Wood and Blanche Wood.

Thirty-fourth re-union of the 1-10-20th Maine Regiment Association will be held in their hall at Long Island, Aug. 14, 1902.

Sunday Newspaper Service.

How the enormous editions of the New York Sheets are put together and transported for Maine readers.

Probably there is no better exemplification of what may be called the modern development of business energy than a daily newspaper establishment in a metropolitan city.

The spirit of activity does not end with the preparation by a daily journal of the news matter. The week's edition has to be printed, the great sheets of the latest news matter, to which the regular sources of transportation which is open to all as a means of widely distributing its circulation, re-enforced in a limited manner by the use of special trains. This general method of distribution, however, is not available for the Sunday newspapers; consequently special methods have to be adopted, and there is no better way of ascertaining what this involves than is given by the means resorted to to deliver the great sheets of the latest news matter to the New England states as far away as Maine at the earliest possible moment after their issue from the presses.

In the early hours of the first day of the week, huge presses of the metropolitan journals are printing the final sheets of the latest news matter, to which the regular sources of transportation which is open to all as a means of widely distributing its circulation, re-enforced in a limited manner by the use of special trains. This general method of distribution, however, is not available for the Sunday newspapers; consequently special methods have to be adopted, and there is no better way of ascertaining what this involves than is given by the means resorted to to deliver the great sheets of the latest news matter to the New England states as far away as Maine at the earliest possible moment after their issue from the presses.

In this story I have simply endeavored to show the manner in which the great modern Sunday papers of New York, partially printed in the early hours of that day in their respective establishments, hand their way to our breakfast tables over a distance of nearly 250 miles. If one stops to think of it, he cannot but acknowledge that it is one of the most remarkable developments of the age in which we live, and that business energy in its most active sense is the factor that enables it to be so successfully accomplished.

in all directions of the city and its out-lying districts.

There is a second section to the New England newspaper train, one of four to six cars, which leaves the 42d street station in New York at 2.35 a. m. The first section takes the Shore Line from New Haven, while the second section comes via Hartford, Springfield, Worcester and the Back Bay station, arriving in Boston over the Boston & Albany at 8.15 a. m. The second section brings no papers for Boston unless there is some delay in issuing the papers in New York. This section supplies a large part of New England with papers for Sunday reading.

The papers which are transferred to the North station, or a portion of them, are taken by a special train which leaves for Portland, over the western division, at 7.30 a. m., while another special newspaper train leaves the station for Lowell, Manchester, Concord and other New Hampshire points, at about the same time as the special for Portland. The fact that only 50,000 newspapers reach this city by the trains that arrive at the South station, taken in connection with the large number of cars which leave New York, (and in these times no superfluous cars are hauled by any train), indicates that several thousand copies of New York's Sunday papers reach New England by these special trains. The business is one of comparatively recent development and is apparently increasing with great rapidity.

In this story I have simply endeavored to show the manner in which the great modern Sunday papers of New York, partially printed in the early hours of that day in their respective establishments, hand their way to our breakfast tables over a distance of nearly 250 miles. If one stops to think of it, he cannot but acknowledge that it is one of the most remarkable developments of the age in which we live, and that business energy in its most active sense is the factor that enables it to be so successfully accomplished.

Golden Wedding Bells.

July 4, 1852—July 4, 1902. Fifty years ago in the beautiful village of Rumford Point occurred the union of two happy young people, when Orpha Pinkham and Coleman Hemmingway were made one. The papers, no doubt, chronicled the happy event and then it was forgotten.

The young couple settled in South Rumford and Mr. Hemmingway engaged in farming. The seasons that came and went brought prosperity and content to them and their children with their merry laughter and happy ways broad sunshine and happiness to their home, just as they blessed and comforted the home of the first wedded pair driven from Eden. Six children were given them, five boys and one girl, and growing up together under the same watchful care, it is no wonder that a deep affection existed between them.

But the years passed and soon they went forth and found new homes, the daughter, Mrs. Harvey Neal, remained at home.

And now as their golden wedding drew near there were joyful anticipations of a reunion of all the scattered dear ones who had left home so long ago, for invitations were sent out to all the relations of both to come and help celebrate the happy event and make their joy complete.

Those present of the near relatives were Chas. A. and Willis C. Hemmingway, sons, and their wives; May Dell, the only daughter, and her husband, Harvey Neal; two grandchildren, Frank Hemmingway of Farmington and Ralph Hemmingway of Norway; Mrs. Jane F. Carr of Bangor, Mrs. Hemmingway's sister; a niece, Mrs. Fred Bean, son and daughter from Bethel.

Letters of congratulation and regret came from the absent ones who would have been glad if business and other cares had not prevented their attendance. Also sons, Lewis P. and Frank L. of Woolley and Seattle, Wash., sent a nugget of gold from the favored land they dwell in, to the parents they love and revere and this is but a type of the gold and affection in their hearts for those parents so far away.

Others who were absent but who sent remembrances were the other son, Milton of Farmington and two sisters, Mrs. Hemmingway's, Mrs. Ackley of Milton and Mrs. M. Billings of Bethel aged respectively 90 and 74. Mrs. Caroline Virgin was unavoidably absent but her son Mellen was present.

The presents were many and valuable from present and absent friends and relations and showed the esteem in which this good couple is held.

The following poem on the occasion was composed by a friend of the family.

Golden Anniversary.

Fifty years, and now we greet thee, Faithful comrades on life's way;
'Tis the birthday of our freedom And thy Golden Wedding Day.

Fifty years of sun and shadow,
More of light than dark thy life, Since that day of happy union Binding thee as man and wife.

Closer knit the bond of true love In a new-found earthly joy.
By the touch of baby fingers Kiss thy first-born baby boy.

One by one the circle widened, Echoes rang with childhood's glee, Till five happy boyish faces Beamed around the mother's knee.

Day by day from spring to harvest Did the father till the soil;
Day by day the patient mother Labored with unceasing toil.

Countless tasks her busy fingers Found to do from rising sun Far unto the hour of midnight Always something to be done.

Fast toward noble manhood grew these Sturdy boys with hopes afloat,
And the parent love was fearing That dread time when they must go.

Then it was that baby prattle Called the old days back again,
And once more the merry echoes Woke when little Madell came.

One by one they left the homestead, Seeking each a different way And thy Golden Message heading From afar they come to-day.

Fifty years! The trailing woodbine Climbers over the old home walls, Flowers bloom along the roadway,
To his mate the robin calls.

'Tis the same as in the old days, Nature's beauty yet beguiles, Still with thee thy daughter lingers
And to us a greeting smiles.

Fifty years! Thy locks are silvered, Time hath lightly traced its way May the years to come with blessings Rich and many thee endow.

Not a link as yet is broken, Back to distant homes we stray;
May God grant us all to greet thee On thy Diamond Wedding Day.

Of Interest to Farmers

Under date of June 27, '02, Director, Chas. D. Woods of Orono, Me., publishes the following, "Under the name of Koo Bag there is being sold a powder to be used as an insecticide, also as a plant stimulant. Composed of the following materials:

- 1/2 per cent Plaster,
- 1 " " Salt petre,
- 2 " " Ochre,
- 2 1/2 " " Paris Green.

The balance Sand and Clay which may be impurities in the ochre or plaster." This compound being only valuable as a poison as far as the Paris Green may go. The same compound may be prepared by any one for less than one cent per pound. If you want to use Paris Green the cheaper way is to buy and use it straight, but if you want to use something that will positively not injure the plant, and as surely kill the bugs

Use BUC DEATH

It costs more but goods things always do.

The difference in cost is surely made up in increased yield.
